

INCREASING DIVERSITY PROGRAMMING FOR AN INCREASINGLY DIVERSE WORLD.

New Race and Ethnic Studies Program

Marquette University seeks to diversify its faculty and student body. In support of these goals, Marquette is planning a new Race and Ethnic Studies interdisciplinary program, and a hiring initiative to support the program is underway.

Marquette University seeks six tenure-track faculty members in these areas:

Assistant Professor of Marketing \(tenure track\)

Assistant Professor of Multicultural Branding

Assistant Professor of Social and Cultural Sciences – Sociology \(tenure track\)

Assistant Professor of Latinx Studies

Assistant Professor of Philosophy – Africana Philosophy \(tenure track\)

Assistant Professor of Philosophy – Non-Western Philosophy \(tenure track\)

As a Catholic, Jesuit university, our history and mission call us to provide higher education to first-generation college students. New programming and hiring, and plans to become a Hispanic-serving institution are only part of Marquette's commitment to diversity and inclusion.
