This summer, the Hartman Center will offer its second session of the “Dwyane Wade Live to Dream Summer Reading Program.” The program will run Mondays through Thursdays from June 13 to July 14. Instructional hours will be 8:30 to 12:45 PM. There will be a pre-program in-service on Saturday, June 11th to review the Center’s program and summer procedures. There will also be 90-minutes of weekly professional development following instruction. Summer classrooms will be comprised of five children each. The Hartman Center’s new iPads will be integrated into the instructional program.

We are now accepting applications for Wade Reading Coaches. Applicants must have completed EDUC 4964.

Wade Coaches will:

- Plan and provide literacy instruction for five students over five weeks.
- Participate in approximately 40 hours of professional development activities under the direction of Dr. Clark and licensed reading specialists with whom the Center partners.
- Earn a stipend of $2,500.00.

The position will be posted through Marquette University, Human Resources. Apply through the Human Resource website and also forward to Courtney McNeal the names and email contact information for two recommenders.

Recommenders may be from the following individuals:

- EDUC 4964 supervisor
- EDUC 4297 supervisor
- EDUC 4357 instructor
- Student teaching supervisor
- Cooperating teacher for student teaching or EDUC 4297
- Principal, mentor, instructional coach from current in-service teaching position

Applicants’ instructional effectiveness and professionalism while a College of Education student will be considered as well.
