Explore the Haggerty galleries.

Visit regularly to view the annual series of exhibitions and permanent collection works of modern and contemporary American and European photographers, prints and paintings, and Old Master paintings and prints.

Enjoy a variety of educational programming for visitors of all ages.

Immerse yourself in the visual arts through the museum’s free programs including exhibition openings, lectures, and gallery talks with artists, scholars, and critics. Request a free tour of the museum for your friends, business colleagues, or members of your favorite community organizations.

Membership Matters

Engage with one of the Midwest’s most innovative university museums.

Support the integral teaching and learning role the Haggerty Museum of Art plays on the Marquette University campus, in the Milwaukee community, and beyond. The Haggerty offers free tours and workshops for Marquette and other college students, and local elementary and high school students.

Your membership contribution provides support for exhibitions and educational programs and plays a fundamental part in these efforts as you embark on a year of exploration at the Haggerty.
