University Reports

A guide to university-level reports in the Faculty Activities Database (FAD)

In addition to department-level and college-level reports (e.g. Faculty Activities Reports), the FAD is also home to several reports that can be run at the university level. Currently, there are four university-level reports – Compendium, e-Publications@marquette, the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs (ORSP) Faculty Activities Report, and the Community Engagement report. A brief description of each of these reports appears below.

Quick links to university report information

1) Compendium

2) e-Publications@Marquette

3) Office of Research and Sponsored Programs (ORSP) Faculty Activities Report

4) Community Engagement report

Please email fad@marquette.edu with any additional questions.
1) Compendium

As of August 2012, faculty members with FAD accounts are able to opt-in to allow the scholarly activities they enter into the FAD to also be shared with Compendium, meaning accomplishments only need to be entered in one place.

The Compendium report includes activities in the following sections of the FAD: Awards and Honors, Publications and Other Intellectual Contributions (published only), Presentations, Professional Service, and Public Service (only activities related to your position at Marquette).

Note that the Office of Marketing and Communication (OMC) will not have direct access to faculty members’ information in the FAD. The FAD system administrator (OIRA) will extract and share the appropriate activities with OMC so that they can add them to Compendium.

- What do I need to do to make sure my activities are submitted to Compendium?

1. Enter any new activity information that does not appear in your account. Please see this tutorial or the FAD User Guide for more information on how to enter information into the system. Remember to include a month and year with each activity.

2. Click on the “Report Permissions” screen in your account. Read through the text for each report, and check the appropriate check box to allow your activities to be included in each report.

3. Run your own Compendium reports to be sure that your information appears accurately. Please see this tutorial on how to run reports within the FAD.

Individuals with FAD accounts will receive an email notification from fad@marquette.edu two to three weeks prior to the date that activities will be extracted from the FAD for inclusion in Compendium.

For more information about Compendium, please see www.marquette.edu/research/compendium.php.
2) e-Publications@Marquette

As of August 2012, faculty members with FAD accounts are able to opt-in to allow the scholarly activities they enter into the FAD to also be shared with e-Publications@Marquette.

The ePublications report includes activities in the following sections of the FAD: Publications and Other Intellectual Contributions (published only), and Presentations (only those with the text of the presentation uploaded to your FAD account).

Note that e-Publications (the Raynor Memorial Libraries) will not have direct access to faculty members’ information in the FAD. The FAD system administrator (OIRA) will extract and share the appropriate activities with e-Publications.

• What do I need to do to make sure my activities are submitted to e-Publications@marquette?

1. Enter any new activity information that does not appear in your account. Please see this tutorial or the FAD User Guide for more information on how to enter information into the system. Remember to include a month and year with each activity.

2. Click on the “Report Permissions” screen in your account. Read through the text for each report, and check the appropriate check box to allow your activities to be included in each report.

3. Run your own e-Publications reports to be sure that your information appears accurately. Please see this tutorial on how to run reports within the FAD.

Individuals with FAD accounts will receive an email notification from fad@marquette.edu two to three weeks prior to the date that activities will be extracted from the FAD for inclusion in e-Publications@marquette.

For more information about e-Publications@Marquette, please see epublications.marquette.edu.
3) Office of Research and Sponsored Programs (ORSP) Faculty Activities Report

Beginning in spring 2013, the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs (ORSP) Faculty Activities Report will be generated using the FAD. This report will be used to help ORSP identify possible areas of future collaboration and funding opportunities.

The ORSP FAR includes activities in the following sections of the FAD: Awards and Honors, External Connections and Partnerships (activity type, organization name, and dates only), Media Contributions, Professional Memberships, Artistic and Professional Performances and Exhibits, Contracts, Grants and Sponsored Research, Intellectual Contributions, Intellectual Property, and Professional Service.

- What do I need to do to make sure my activities are included in the ORSP FAR?

ORSP will not publish or otherwise externally distribute information from this report. Therefore, faculty will not be required to check an “opt-in” checkbox to have their activities included.

If a collaborative opportunity is identified by ORSP, ORSP will work directly with the faculty member and will NOT contact the organizations/individuals listed on the individual faculty activities reports.

The Office of Institutional Research and Assessment (OIRA), which administers the FAD, will run the ORSP FAR report once per year at the end of February, after all college-level Faculty Activities Reports are due, and submit the report to ORSP. ORSP will not have access to pull information directly from the FAD.
4) Community Engagement report

As of December 2014, faculty members with FAD accounts are able to opt-in to allow certain scholarly activities they enter into the FAD to also be shared with the Community Engagement Task Force for inclusion in Marquette’s Community Engagement Database.

The Community Engagement report includes activities in the following sections of the FAD: Publications and Other Intellectual Contributions (published only), External Connections and Partnerships, all Service screens (Department, College, University, Professional, and Public). Only activities flagged as related to community engagement will be included in this report (see step 3, below).

Note that the Community Engagement Task Force will not have direct access to faculty members’ information in the FAD. The FAD system administrator (OIRA) will extract and share the appropriate activities with the Community Engagement Task Force for inclusion in the Community Engagement Database.

- What do I need to do to make sure my activities are included in the Community Engagement report?

  1. Enter any new activity information that does not appear in your account. Please see this tutorial or the FAD User Guide for more information on how to enter information into the system. Remember to include a month and year with each activity.

  2. Click on the “Report Permissions” screen in your FAD account. Read through the text for the report, and check the check box for this report to allow your activities to be included.

!General Information

  3. For each activity that is related to community engagement in the sections listed above, select “Yes” from the drop down menu for the question that asks “Is this activity related to community engagement?”

!Is this activity related to community engagement?

  4. Run your own Community Engagement report to be sure that your information appears accurately. Please see this tutorial on how to run reports within the FAD.

Individuals with FAD accounts will receive an email notification from fad@marquette.edu two to three weeks prior to the date that activities will be extracted from the FAD for inclusion in the Community Engagement Database.

For questions related to the Community Engagement Database or the Community Engagement Task Force, please contact Kathy Durben, Director of the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs, at katherine.durben@marquette.edu. Please email fad@marquette.edu with any additional questions.