UNDERGRADUATE COURSE DESCRIPTION

Term: Fall 2015
Instructor: Jonathan Heaps
Course #: THEO 1001
Section: 124
Course Title: Introduction to Theology
Topic: Power, Authority, Community

Description:

Examines a selection of experiential, literary, and theoretical developments in the Judeo-Christian tradition. Focuses on how Christianity understands the human relationship to God and the role it plays in organizing communities, legitimating authorities, and either bestowing or limiting political power. Includes orientation to the academic study of religion. Background in theology is not presupposed. Prerequisite to all other courses in theology.