UNDERGRADUATE COURSE DESCRIPTION

Term: Spring 2015
Instructor: Timothy A. Gabrielson
Course #: THEO 2100
Sections: 101, 102
Course Title: New Testament Overview

Description:

This course is a representative study of the New Testament, including issues of content, structure, formation, and the religious-political background of the first century. One particular emphasis is the major streams of early Christianity, and how they fit within their Jewish context. Another is how the New Testament functions in contemporary Christianity and American culture.