UNDERGRADUATE COURSE DESCRIPTION

Term: Fall 2015
Instructor: Rev. Lúcás Chan, S.J.
Course #: THEO 2310
Section: 104
Course Title: Explorations in Christian Theology
Topic: Virtues and Vices

Description:

The exploration in theology includes a deeper understanding of the human person in relationship both to God and to the human community as realized most fully in the Christian church. This course therefore explores selected Christian virtues that have been advocated by major Christian figures throughout history and are crucial in establishing relationships with God and other members of the human community in daily life. Corresponding vices that hinder this establishment will also be identified. Both theoretical and practical approaches will be employed throughout the course.
