UNDERGRADUATE COURSE DESCRIPTION

Term: Fall 2014
Instructor: Rev. Dorian Llywelyn, S.J.
Course #: THEO 4390/5390
Section: 103
Course Title: Studies in Systematic Theology
Topic: Christian Spirituality

Description:

This class will examine a variety of narratives (a gospel, saints’ lives, spiritual autobiographies, devotional writings, fiction, and films) which express aspects of Christian spirituality - including conversion, faith as spiritual warfare, nuptial mysticism, maps of spiritual development, and the experiences of spiritual doubt and the loss of faith - in relation to the fundamental beliefs of Christianity. The materials will be studied as products of their concrete historical and cultural milieus, but also taking into consideration how the issues with which they deal may also be reflected in contemporary society, both local and global.
