G. In Progress:

Prophetic Witness in the United States: Documents of Christian Social Concern— In conjunction with the Faith and Order Commission of the National Council of Churches I am preparing a book that introduces and presents 97 documents on social concern in six categories (Approaches to Society, Economic Justice, Racial Justice, Neighbors in Civil Society, Creation, Ecology & Environment, Christians Cooperating) from a broad spectrum of Christian churches, movements, and organizations in the United States.

A General Introduction (this author), Introductions to four of the six sections, and a Concluding Perspective (this author) are ready. When the final document(s) comes through and the two brief section Introductions now underway are finished, we will bring the whole to the publisher, Paulist Press, and a possible joint venture with Intervarsity Press (INV.).

Christ and Society—monograph in a draft of five chapters (August 2008) approaching social reality in light of the divinity of Christ, with early interest from Rowman & Littlefield Publishing, and an invitation from Oxford University Press to forward the first one or two chapters. A draft of four of six chapters by August 2008 was the goal.

"Systematics, History, and Communications: A Doran Difference?" invited chapter in a Festschrift, John Dadosky editor, Philosophy and Theology of History: Essays in Honor of Robert Doran, S.J., with an August 2008 deadline.
