Counseling Center Fall 2024 Drop-in Group

Manhood in Color

This group is a space for men of color to discuss their wellness as well as their identity as men of color. The aim of the group is to both foster community as well as challenge ones perceptions of their identity in a productive space, allowing all men to safely explore their “manhood”

No pre-registration is required for this group. This group is drop in format, so students are welcome to attend one, some, or all of the groups during the semester.
